RUNWAY Turf Marking Foam is formulated to minimize golfer awareness of pesticide applications compared to agricultural-type marking foams by dissipating quickly without permanently discoloring sensitive grasses. RUNWAY is ideal for rough and fairway applications where agricultural marking foams may last too long or where spray pattern indicators can discolor equipment.

Directions for Use

Fill foam tank one-half full with water and add RUNWAY at the rate of 3 ounces per 2 gallons of water. Fill remainder of tank with water by placing the water hose in bottom of tank. Fill slowly to avoid premature foaming. If foam is watery or runny, add more concentrate in small increments until thick "shaving cream" foam is produced. If foam is too thick, add water. With extreme hard water, an increased amount of concentrate will be needed. Best results will be achieved if water temperature is 55° to 80°F. If water temperature is below 55°F, more concentrate may be needed to achieve desired results. Foam-generating tanks should be clean and free of other chemicals before adding concentrate. When used in a tank previously exposed to other foams, it is strongly recommended that the system be purged thoroughly at least two times, or use Precision Laboratories, LLC AGRI-KLEEN™ and refer to label for information on how to clean foam systems.
